

Labels

Sara Holbrook

People get tagged with these labels,
like African-American,
Native-American,
White,
Asian, Hispanic,
or Euro-Caucasian—
I just ask that you get my name right.
I'm part Willie,
part Ethel,
part Suzi and Scott.
Part assembly-line worker,
part barber, a lot of dancer
and salesman.
Part grocer and mailman.
Part rural, part city, part cook and part caveman.
I'm a chunk-style vegetable soup
of cultural little bits,
my recipe's unique
and no one label fits.
Grouping folks together
is an individual waste.
You can't know me by just a look,
you have to take a taste.

Word/Concept

--

Definition or prediction of definition:

Compare to (synonyms)

Contrast with (antonyms)

Examples (from life or reading)

Pictures/Symbols

Image One: Show this one FIRST.

Image Two: Show this one SECOND.

